EXPERIENCE

Bob has over 21 years of experience directing all aspects of architectural design. His major areas of responsibility include the design and supervision of design components of projects, including building design, site layout and infrastructure improvements required to service development properties.

Bob's philosophy is that the best solutions for each project manifest themselves from a relentless critique of the ordinary. Simply put, a hands-on approach to any project provides a singularly unique design, which satisfies all aspects of our client's needs. The aesthetic, the economic, and the functional, are concerns, which shape the beginning of any project. In our office none of these concerns is more or least important.
